Our underfloor heating experts are specialised in all makes of electric underfloor heating system from the UK makes to the foreign ones so it doesn't matter how serious the problems are – we can help you. The experts will do proper diagnostic to find out what the problems are and find solutions as some time they will need to source the part like underfloor heating thermostat, pipe or might have problem with the underfloor heating pipes, underfloor heating pumps.

Unless you have some appropriate knowledge and equipment yourself to try deal with the problem but there is a limit to the repairs that can be undertaken safely. However, there are a few simple things that can be checked before calling a specialist underfloor heating repairer.

As with all heating systems it is advisable to run the system, for half an hour or so, each month during the summer. This will reduce the risk of circulating pumps and valves sticking.

Under Floor Heating Leaks

The topic of leaks can be dealt with very quickly. If you can see where the leak is coming from then that is where it is coming from.

On the other hand, if the pressure is dropping and you can find no visible leak then it is going to be under the floor and specialist advice should be sought. Leaks to underfloor heating pipe are extremely rare unless they pipe has been damaged by some other work to the floor or poor installation of the supporting floor insulation that has resulted in movement.

In either case some excavation to a screeded floor will be required. If the floor is of a timber construction with underfloor heating, then the floor deck will need to be removed.
